

Identity

Becoming more is what really excites you. Passion is the expectancy of an expanded identity.

Certainty

That you can and will achieve the results. It's not enough to hope or wish, you must expect. And that requires total certainty that you will get the result.

Focus

For passion to be passion and not just desire you need a constructive focus. Yours is your instrument.